Our history

Back to the 15th century under Cosimo il Vecchio de' Medici. In 1570 Jews were forced to live in a ghetto with restrictions on their freedom. Follow the unification of Italy in 1861, Jews were free and occupied prominent positions in society, in politics, culture and art. In 1943 more than 500 Jews were deported from Florence. Following the Shoah, the Jewish Community reflourished around the great Sinagogue, which became a symbol of rebirth.

Why we need your support

The J.C.F. needs your support to continue the tradition of vibrant Jewish community life in Florence. Your contributions will go directly to supporting our programs that are critically in need of funding now more than ever. Your support will provide everything from educational supplies to housing resources and assistance to families and elders in need, from social activities to the distribution of kosher for Passover food before Pesach. Your help will allow members to continue their Jewish journey in all areas of their lives as well as welcome visitors to our city and to our synagogue.
